All things new!

It began this year with the theater, or was it the new teachers, or what about the new gym floor? Heritage received a major face lift over the summer. Kids came back with new surroundings and new people. The theater was completed behind schedule, but it was well worth it. The theater now has a new lighting system, as well as a curtain, air conditioning, and a sound system. The theater will be the sight for plays, talent shows and many other programs. The new faces around the school included those of new teachers. Mr.Rugh, Mrs. Harrison, Mr White, Mr. Decker, Mr. Talbot, Mr. Salisbury, Ms. Munk, Ms. Miller, Ms. Goehmann, Mr. Gazet, Mr. Dehne, Ms. Pugh and counselor Ms. Schnieder. The gym floor was refinished and was roped off during assemblies, so kids couldn't walk over it and cause damage. The school went through many changes this year including the resignation of Superintendent Wayne Vasher and Principal Mr. Sheffield, and Interum Principal for the year Mr. Larsen. Some of these changes were upsetting at first, but all in all it made Heritage a better place to be.

A stage of development.

a word from our editor Lauren Lambertson

Every September the grueling process of picking a theme comes and hits the editor in the face. Last year we faced complaints about the color of the book, since it wasn't blue and green, but why should it be blue and green. Wouldn't you kind of get sick of the same colors every year? So this year we tried to pick an idea we thought would have more appeal.

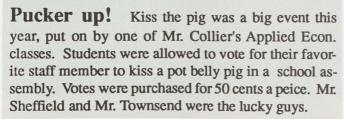

This year Heritage came under many changes, so wouldn't it be appropriate to have a theme to coincide? And since the biggest change was that of the theater, we chose something with a theatre-style.

The process on the book actually begins the year before, preparing for what might come, and trying to always find new and interesting things. As a goal for the book, I've tried to make some changes in the way it's done. First of all a yearbook isn't supposed to be cheesy, it should have good journalistic qualities, and that's something we've been missing. Features have been added to provide a different view, or side of the story that's not usually found.

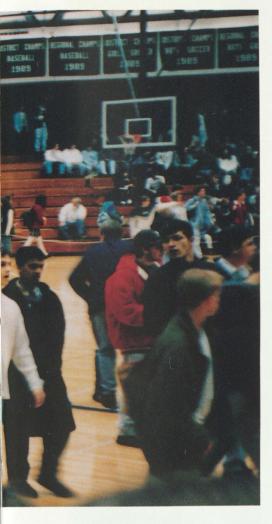

In turn sports coverage has been cut down, by more than half to provide room for more interesting subjects that go on and never receive coverage. It's a big change, and I'm sure there will be complaints. But this is a growing year, and we are trying to grow some too. Maybe even become more respectable.

Quiet! Juniors Tonya Nolan and Betsy Hogan roam the halls. Hall wandering has long been a favorite of Heritage kids, but this year with the beef up in security, it became a bit more difficult.

Constant reminder. There were often nice days outside when we were stuck in.

What? Painting the walls wasn't exactly the most common sight at Heritage High, but here Senior Dawn Hughes is painting mural in honor of Shakespeare.

Take a second look.

No that isn't a girl braiding her girl-friend's hair. Sophomore Andrea Coates braids Justin Keaner's hair in their Sophomore English class. Things have changed in the 90.s. It's no longer the decade where certain sexes are classified into groups. Women work as doctors, and men may be found in the career of nursing. But when it came to Homecoming and Prom time, it became confusing. Does the guy still ask, or should the girl. And if the girl asks, does she pay for everything? Don't forget going dutch. Things change all the time. Its just a stage were going through.

Trying something new.

by Lauren Lambertson

Publications changed this year. Trying to go through a stage of growth, they switched the classes to a combined night class. The yearbook students assisted in the production of the paper and vice versa. It was quite different, and took a little getting use to, especially since there has always been a quarrel between the two publications. But differences were put aside and the accomplishment was a broadsheet paper that is the best Heritage has ever seen, and a yearbook with more style and higher quality writing.

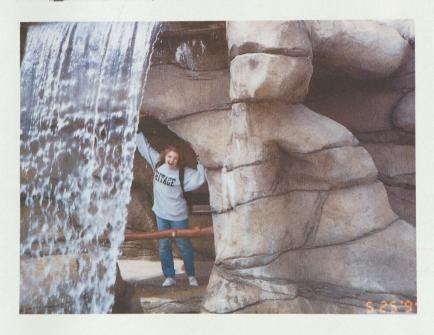

The outcome has had its success as well as pitfalls, but all in all the success outways the bad.

by Lauren Lambertson

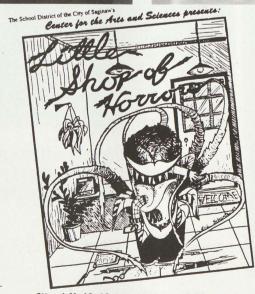

Most students cringe when they here that another student attends the Center For Arts and Sciences. The general belief that these students believe they are better is simply untrue. They have some arrogance, but you have to if you want to be better than the competition.

But face it, when it comes to the atre they are better. We won't deny it. They perform at least two shows a year, one of which is always a musical, and they do a nice job at it. We on the other hand have only produced one play this school year, and never in the history of Heritage have we attempted a musical. Our theatre program here at HHS leaves something to be desired, and the Center makes up for what we lack. Serious students can gain the experience we lack.

WORLD EVENTS

Upheaval In Russia

Russia, one of the world's great powers. experienced political upheaval when President Boris Yeltsin disbanded the legislature on Sept. 21, 1993. Many of its hard-liners barricaded themselves inside the parliment building in Moscow. Vice President Alexander Rutskoi and others tried to wrest power from Yeltsin in an attempted coup. But, following Yeltsin's orders, tanks and troops flushed out the defiant lawmakers. The world was stunned by the sight of fire raging uncontrolled inside the parliment building. When the smake cleared the rebellion was crushed, and its leaders were in jail.

"Seinfeld," which features the comic misadventures of the New York comedian and his friends, was named best comedy series. Michael Richards, who plays Kramer, won as best supporting actor in a comedy Writer Larry David was honored for an episode entitled "The Contest."

Amtrack Crash

An Amtrack train hurled off a bridge into an inky bayou in Saraland, Alabama, at 3 AM on Sept. 22, 1993, plunging its sleeping passengers into a nightmare of fire, water, and death. A barge, the Sunset Limited, had struck and weakened the bridge shortly before the wreck, which killed 47 people aboard.

All three engines and four of the eight cars went off the bridge. Two of the cars were passenger cars; one was completely submerged in water about 16 feet deep. Another passenger car hung perilously from what was left of the bridge.

The world was drawn to Somalia in 1992 by photographs of starving children. It was almost driven away the following year by photographs of fighting adults.

Mogadishu was a city divided, with a northern sector held by warford Ali Mahdi Mohamed, and the south by a rival, Mohamed Farah Aldid. After uniting to overthrow dictator Mohamed Siad Barre, who they forced into exile in 1991, their contest for power led to a full-scale war over Mogadishu that killed 350,000 people in fightling and exacerbated a famine.

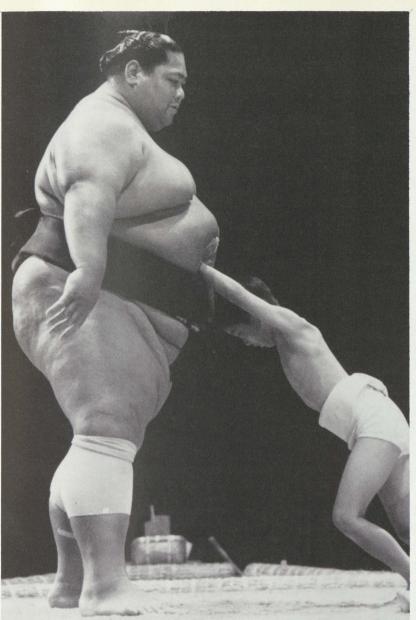

Across the Northeast, the Midwest and large parts of the South, the extreme cold of January 1994 brought an end to the daily routine.

Artic air with wind chills up to 74 degrees below zero swept across the eastern United States in the wake of a blizzard the dumped enough snow to paralyze several states.

In a year filled with horrifying news photos from battlefields around the globe, one photo of human struggle brought a smile: a little boy's joust with a 576-pound Hawaiian Sumo wrestler who goes by the name of Konishiki.

Civil War In Bosnia

The civil war in what was once Yugoslavia moved through its second year at terrible human cost as many as 200,000 people were dead or missing, including 10 United Nations relief workers who had died in October.

Much of the attention in the barbaric war centered on Sarajevo, the long-suffering Bosnian capital under siege by the Serbs. But life in other communities was even harder.

"People in Maglaj are subterranean people," a U.N. observer said "They spend most of their time in the basements. They look dirty, tired, and haggard."

Midwest Floods

The great flood was the story that most interested Americans in the summer of 1993. The stage for disaster was set during the winter, when unusually heavy snow fell. There were no midwinter thaws, so the snow melted rapidly as spring arrived, enough to cause scattered record flooding. And then came the rains. Des Moines, for example, logged more than 32 inches by the end of July, compared to 18.7 in a normal year. The casualties ranged from thousands left homeless to investors and consumers in every corner of the United States.

The Kerrigan Attack

Nancy Kerrigan, the 22-year-old U.S. figure skater who was among the gold medal favorities at the 1994 Winter Olypics, was attacked after practice on January 6, 1994, by a man who hit her on the right leg with a club or metal bar.

Within days, an anonymous phone call to authorities pointed to Kerrigan's rival, Tonya Harding, and a few of her entourage.

The story dominated newspapers, magazines, and conversations throughout the United States for months as officials tried to determine the true villain. In the end, both Harding and Kerrigan skated in Olympic competition.

A New Adventure for teachers and students.

by Michelle Abesamis

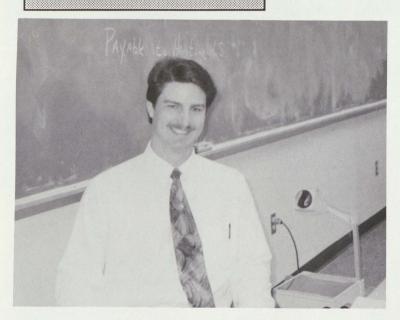

Many new teachers joined the HHS faculty this year. Many of them are younger and they added some spice to the school. Mr. Gazet replaced Mr. Williams this year in science while Mr. Williams is in England teaching for a year. Students had mixed feelings about the new teachers, as usual when dealing with teachers. Some kids found a dependent and others found those they couldn't get along with. Pictured are some of the new teachers in their environment.

Mr. Gazet was a foreign exchange teacher.

Mr. Decker teaches HHS students marketing.

This was Ms. Miller's first and last year of teaching. She will now be pursuing a career in medicine.

Ms. Munk tries to figure out how to work the computer.

Focusing the Spotlight on Peer Counselors

he philosophy(of Peer Counseling) is that kids do not want to talk to adults. They'd rather talk with kids their own age." explained Peer Counseling teacher Jerry Berg.

To become a Peer Counselor, once must go through Peer Counseling I and II, then Berg selects people he feels are qualified enough to be a Peer Counselor.

"You have to have patience, be a good listener, and you have to care." Junior Angie Jenkins added.

Peer Counselors are available every hour. There are twelve actively working Peer Counselors. They deal with all kinds of problems. "...anything you can think of and more. Boyfriend/girlfriend problems to drugs, to abuse, suicide, eating disorders, losing someone, sexual advances at school or workplace, job loss...anything!" Berg stated.

First semester consisted of seventy-six conflicts resolved, 133 personal problems, and fifty-nine tutorings.

Everything is kept strictly confidential, except if it is a life-threatening situation, such as suicide or where there is a case involving abuse. The Peer Counselor tells them up front that if it is life-threatening, they have to tell Berg.

Berg feels very positive about the program and plans to continue it in the future. He also feels that it has helped many people. "With conflicts, they usually avoid them or get very aggressive. This is an alternative to doing that."

The Peer Counselors also have good things to say about the program.

"Being able to help other students with problems is so rewarding, because it makes you feel like you are doing something good for the school and for the students." Senior Toni Rendon said.

Senior Kristi Perreault stated, "When people leave with a smile, you know you've really helped them...it makes you feel good, too."

Mary Jo Sutto, also a senior, said, "I've learned that you have to be very choosy on what you say . I didn't know I had such a big affect on some person."

omething for everyone.

by Lauren Lambertson

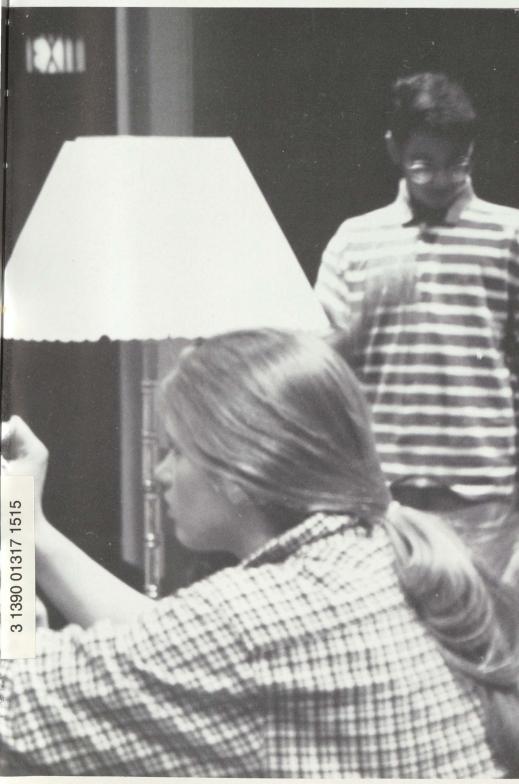

This year's play opened up doorways to many hopefulls who wanted to get involved in the experience. The cast of Alky involved many students who had never been near a stage, let alone performing on it. All of the new blood in the theatre caused a new liveliness, as well as extreme confusion. Luckily there were some who knew what they were doing. As for example director Lauren Lambertson and seasoned actors Bryce Gammon, Amanand Strong, Mike Duffield, Kristen Schutt, and Sarah Wheatley, The play also had a green teacher who had never directedd before. Students were an intergral part, and made the process a little easier.

Ahh! To the top Left: The cast and crew of Alky. Above: Relaxing after the play the crew sits around and talks about where to go for a bite to eat.

onologues

by Lauren Lambertson

The play Alky was presented in the fashion of monologue. The effect was supposed to reveal the inner thoughts of the person. In a sense it was a narration for the audeience, of what was going on in the character's life. The play, wrtten by Jerome McDonugh, was the play performed this year. As above Mike Duffield performs one of his monologue, which happens to take place at the funeral of one of his friends. The play broke the fourth wall in theatre, but was all right for effect.

Choir concerts experienced a new attraction this year, Teddy Spendlove and Mark Mousseau. They performed their rendition of The Blues Brothers at many different concerts. At the Christmas concert they performed "Silver Bells" and then at the Talent Show they performed a lovely number with a cardboard cut-out of an angel with Mrs. Cheger-Timm's face pasted on it.

Their performances livened up the concerts and brought many parents around to each concert to see them.

When asked of why they reincarnated the brothers Mark responded "We felt that something was needed to bring back a sense of humor to the concerts, and it worked, 'cause people laugh."

The pair certainly did that. Audience members throughly enjoyed their performances, especially their rendition of "Silver Bells" with their bells, and interesting choreography. We look forward to many more appearences by the brothers.

ahamas man!

by Lauren Lambertson

This year the Varsity Choir ventured to the tropical area of the Bahaman Islands for their annual Festi-Val competition.

Preperation for the trip began in the early part of the year, as the director of the choir began to choose music suitable for competition. Then the students participated in selling goods for fundraisers. Pizza was the all popular choice again this year. Then half way through the year the choir began preparing material for the Choir Talent Show of which the proceeds from went to the trip.

Then time came for the choir to begin work on the material chosen for competition. The group worked hard and long, devoting many hours to perfecting it. Finally the time came, and they went on their crusie. The choir did quite well, and had a heck of a time doing so.

If I only had courage. Above: Mike Barrera performs as the cowardly lion. To the Left: Amy Simpson portrays the manager of the orphnage in a short piece from Annie. The Varsity Choir always came up with new and interesting pieces to do, and this year was no different. The quality expected of them was dealt out and parents, students, and administrators had a school choir to find pride in. And as usual there were those performances outside of school, such as performing at elementary schools, and hospitals for the sick.

Orchestra Program Reaches Maturity in 94

Wimsatt named
"Orchestra Director of the Year"

eritage High's Orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Leslie Wimsatt, celebrated its third birthday with a season of frantic activity. October brought "orchestra Day" at EMU, and December brought the winter concert, which featured both string orchestra and full orchestra selections. Guitars combined with strings for the first time for the performance of a traditional German Christmas piece. In February HHS hosted 1200 high school musicians for the District V Solo and Ensemble Festival. Every string player in the orchestra participated in either a solo or ensemble and all received a Division I (superior) or Division II (excellent) rating. Selected high school string players served as intern teachers at White Pine. In March Heritage hosted the District V Band and Orchestra Festival and received a Division I rating. After a year of fund washing cars and selling candy to relatives, thirty-six orchestra members travelled to Toronto in May. This music tour with strings, winds and ercussion included stops at the University of Western Ontario for workshops, and performances at the Ontario Science Centre. At an all-district orchestra concert on June 1, Mrs Wimsatt was named "Orchestra Director of the Year" for District V. The season finale was a performance at the Court Street Art Fair.

earning to work together.

by Lauren Lambertson

This year the Hi-Fi's choir had many changes. In fact except for a few people, the choir was all new blood. It was in a sense a rebuilding year. All most all of last years members had moved on to Varsity Choir, or graduated, so this all female choir was mostly made up of freshmen.

All of the girls had to learn to work together as a team, and perform as a group. It took time, and practice, to learn how to combine singing with choreography.

They worked hard, and they are doing well for being a green group.

Hi-Fis is a waiting place for females to get into Varsity. Many holes will be left by the countless Varsity members graduating this school year, and these girls will get a shot at moving up in the world of Heritage choir.

Gorge!

To the Left, these freshmen girls seem to really love their nuggets! Its understandable afterall 'chicken nuggets' were only the favorite hot lunch of the year. Susie Corbin seems to be saying, "Get on with it! I want to eat my mashed potatoes!"

"Hey, boys, where are my chicken nuggets?" questions Bart, catching seniors Ron Sorensen and Ryan Kessler skipping lunch, which is normal at Heritage.

Out to Lunch.

To the Left: seniors Rachel Abesamis and Kristi Perreault discuss how long they had to wait in line for lunch. It was typical to stand in line for almost the lunch hour to wait for 'chicken nuggets'. People ran and would sneak out of class to get there early. Teachers would even let kids out early. To the Right, wow, it's the lunch train lady, Gail! Don't we all wish we could drive that lean, mean, driving machine?!

Snooze or Loose? The Epidemic at Heritage

By Lauren Lambertson

What is the most popular phrase of all Heritage High students? I'm soooo tired.

For many Heritage kids it comes down to one fundamental, to sleep in class, or not? Long school hours during the day leave hardly any room for other activities, Sarah Wallace catches up on lost Teachers get enraged by the drifting off of their students, but like it or not, it happens. Due to jobs, or other circumstances kids don't get enough sleep at night, and have trouble getting up for school at 7:30 in the morning.

The main cause of over tiredness are after school jobs. Although there is state law mandating how long and to what hours at night minors can work, it still occurs. Still students come to school ready to doze.

Junior Sara Goodell says "By fifth hour my head usually falls to my desk and I Lit. class during curl up with my three ring binder."

4th period.

Senior Michelle Abesamis comments that "The reason most kids are tired is because with school and games, you just don't have the time to sleep."

Over tiredness causes a problem everyone can see, and it will most likely be this way for the rest of time.

Cinco de Mayo

On May 5, Mexicans celebrate Cinco de Mayo. In Saginaw, there was a huge celebration and a parade. HHS's Latino Awareness Organization(LAO) participated in the parade and made a float. Their theme was "Mexican-Americans: A Collage of Colors". Their float consisted of an Aztec building and they worked very hard to make it look its best. They also made flowers surrounding their float with the colors of the Mexican flag: white, red, and green. Although it was a very cold and cloudy day, they braved the gloomy weather and showed how proud they are of their heritage. Photos courtesy of Heather Medina.

Leaving Us Behind

After a two-year run in the Heritage Voice, the column and a feature story about its writers made one last appearance in Parade Magazine. Below: 94 was the last Night of the Notables. The program was not renewed for 95.

This year was the best year ever for Student Assembly. Every goal we had for the year was accomplished! We would like to thank all the students, staff, and parents for helping us throughout the whole year. We would liketo especially thank our advisor, Ms. Jeanie Oberschmidt for all of her hard work. She is the heart of the organization! Also a special thanks to those students who were in the Leadership classes this year.

Student Assembly won the "Award of Excellence" again this year. Student councils in the state apply for this award. This year we received more points than any school in the State of Michigan. Thanks again to Student Assembly for helping me while in my position as State President. I hope the best for the future! Ryan Kelly,

Student Assembly President

he Great Outdoors

by Erin Freier

The outdoors club is a camping, hiking, traveling, canoeing club open to anyone who is interested in the great outdoors.

This year the club went on only one trip. This trip was a canoe trip, planned by president Rachel Shaw. It was a one-day canoe trip down the AuSable River sometime in late May. It was a fun trip on a beautiful day, by the looks of these pictures.

Club

A picture can say a thousand words...

These fellas are either trying to coax the fish right out of the water, or they're hitting on the local mermaids. You decide!

Anarchy, Chaos and Alcohol!

What a year for the Drama Club.

acing challenges.

by Lauren Lambertson

The board members for the 93'-94' school year faced new and interesting challenges. As many other sections of the school endured growing pains, and changes so did the Drama Club.

The club gained a new Advisor, Chris Rugh, and many new members who complained about all the problems.

President Ebru Yonak, tried to work around the angry club members and do what was best for the club, but members kept complaining about things and soon started attacking the board members.

In the middle of all of this they were trying to organize a play.

The club started out with many problems, but they were overcome and a play was produced. Treasurer Lauren Lambertson directed the play Alky, and other board members assisted in the production.

ne more drink?

by Lauren Lambertson

This year's school play dealt with a real issue commonly known to teenagers, alcohol.

The Drama Club had originally wished to do Grease, but efforts on that part failed, and a play was needed, so Alky was the choice pick. Lauren Lambertson was chosen by President Ebru Yonak to direct the show. Lambertson had stage managed before, but had yet to direct. She was concerned about the topic of the play, and how to bring the message across without seeming cheesy, or like fire and brimestone preaching.

Great thought was put into the way of how to deliver the message, and it was finally decided that the only way that could be accomplished, was through reality. The play had to seem as real as possible, and not just some childish project. Lambertson, along with assistence from advisor Chris Rugh, asked cast and crew members for their input to how a teen party would take place.

The over bearing message was still there, but at least the acting was believable.

All in a days hard work. Above: Members of the play, as well as the Drama Club relax after one of the performances of Alky. Below: The cast of Alky gathered on stage during one part of the performance.

DECA students at the district competition held at Northwood University in Midland, MI. There, students competed in both general marketing skills and their specialized areas. Heritage students took home many awards in every event, as they do every year. DECA students from Heritage have made a name for themselves at these competitions, and at the competitions at state level.

DECA AN ASSOCIATION OF MARKETING STUDENTS

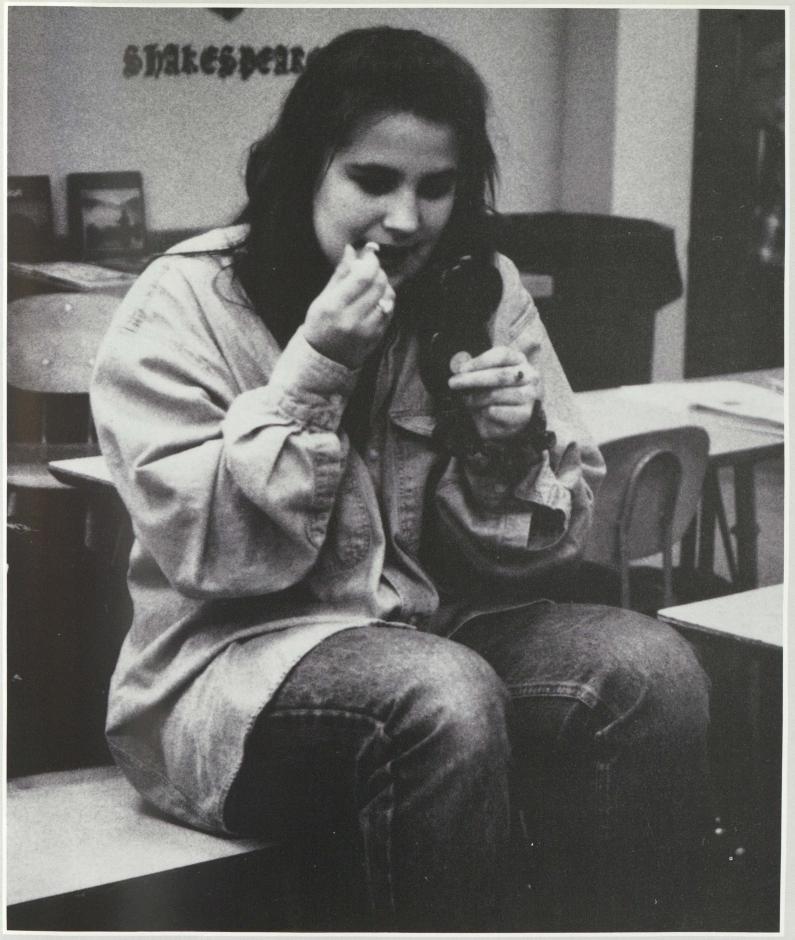

Not many students know what DECA stands for, or what the DECA club is all about. DECA stands for Distributive Education Clubs of America, and it is a club for marketing students.

If you were to ask any DECA member what DECA is all about, they'd probably tell you it's a lot of fun. Students who are involved in DECA get the chance to compete in places like California, Florida, and Minnesota. The highest level of competition, called "nationals" by those involved, is the most fun. Basically, students are put up in plush hotel in a place like California and left alone to occupy their time until their competition times- which usually means shopping, ordering pizza, playing cards, exploring the hotel or meeting new people. Actually, the whole DECA experience is a lot of fun because wherever the competition takes you, there are literally thousands of other high school students all around you.

Congratulations to Jamie Ziosis and Jamle Cutiliff! This year, they were both nominated as state officers- Jamie Cutliff is the state president and Jamie Ziosis is our District 1 representative. Heritage has only been a part of DECA for six years, and aiready we have two major spots on board. Also, thanks to Mr Graham for being so awesome.

Matt Karls, Betsy Kubczak, and Ryan Dost display their plaques. These are the DECA students who went to state level competition in Detroit, MI. They stayed overnight in a beautiful hotel just across the road from Twelve Oaks Mall. DECA students could be seen walking back and forth all day long. At state level, DECA students participated in two role plays and a written test in their specialized area. The first night there, the hotel held a dance for the students. The guards who chaperoned the dance almost lost their heads when these intellectuals started a mosh pit!

Gus the muscle man!

by Lauren Lambertson

Some feel it's going to work, and others are scared of what their senior year will turn out like.

Once again at this year's election assembly Gus Burns impressed the crowd by tearing open his shirt, only this time he had band-aids on his niples and "Vote for Gus" written in lipstick on his chest. It must have impressed the majority of the class, for Gus was elected.

Whether Gus is an excellent or lousy president, is yet to be seen, but for all those doubters out there, give him a chance, he may surprise you.

uniors win class competition.

by Lauren Lambertson

Is it any surprise that the junior class won class competition? No. Why shouldn't they, they have for the last three years of Heritage's history. So why not now.

The junior class was in the lead the majority of the school year, and by the end they were seven points ahead of the senior class. By the time Spring Fever rolled around, the seniors only had one shot, to win all of the events on Spring Fever day, and they couldn't. So the junior class once again enjoyed a day of sun and sand.

What's with that funny get up? Why of course it's a traditional wedding dress. What else.

Archana Kella, came into to talk to one of Mr. Crane's classes about native wedding traditions from India.

She explained the purpose of certain garments, and what a wedding ceremony would entail in her native country.

It was an unusual speech, and students found it very interesting.

An Evening in Paris

Oh, what a night! For Brad Laatsch, Jodi Hammis, Shane Hemphill, Ebru Yonak, Julie Barri, Marcy Mann, Amanda Kaefring, and Andy Reis, Homecoming will definitely be a night to remember.

Stuck in the hype of Homecoming!

by Lauren Lambertson

One dark and stormy Homecoming a couple of teenagers got a car stuck in their friend's yard. What a mess! Seniors Brad Laatsch, Julie Baris, Marcy Mann, Jodi Hammis, Amanda Kaefring, Shane Hemphill, Ebru Yonak, and Andy Reis had an interesting after-Homecoming party.

Everyone who attended Homecoming remembers how rainy it was during the game, dance, and that it had been raining all weekend. The ground was soaked. So why would you park on the lawn? Brad Laatsch parked his car on Marcy Mann's lawn and then when he tried to leave he couldn't get it off. A tow truck had to be called in to remove the vehicle from the yard, Senior Ebru Yonak recalls the night as one big mess, since Marcy's parents were out of town.

The car was eventually removed and Marcy had quite a bit of explaining to do when her parents got back. She couldn't exactly hide tire tracks in the grass.

Homecoming is often something everyone wants to turn out perfect but, it hardly does. Stockings run, dates get ditched, and other such things happen. But it's a moment we all remember.

So whether your Homecoming was like a fairytale, uneventful, or infamous, it's a memory you will always have to cherish.

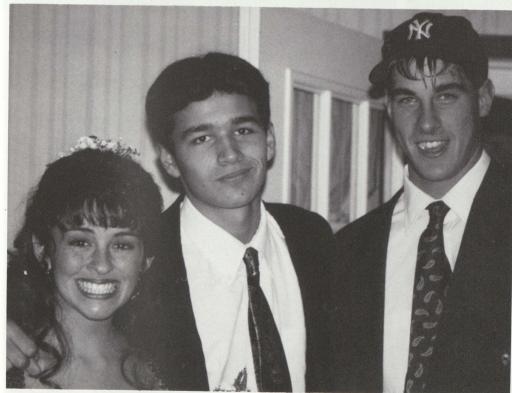

Is this what you're going to wear? Junior Katie Cichowski's date, Garth Mille gives her flowers before he gets dresse for Homecoming.

Smile! Dean Wagner, Matt Wideman, Jason Long, Lori Faerber, Luisa Buzon, and Jennifer Stelter having fun at Homecoming.

Shiny happy people! Erin Ford, Sarah Sarosi, Ann Provenzano and Jenny Rifkin having a great time at the dance.

Feelings...Seniors Colleen Nichols, Jorge Jiminez, and Ryan Kessler show a wide range of emotions about going to the dance.

Say cheese! Freshmen swimmers Laura Ackerman and Bobbi Cichowski at their first Homecoming dance.

For most HHS students, March 31-April 10 meant FLORIDA! Many Hawks drove down to where everybody else was--Panama City Beach, Florida. Others ventured down to Daytona, Acapulco, the Caribbean, South Padre Island, Myrtle Beach, and Gulf Shores, AL. Other students stayed home, because they had prior commitments or they just didn't have enough money to go! There are a lot of memories made during spring break, hopefully all of them good, even though some don't remember much about their spring break!

The bed's going to break! Seniors Stephanie Brown, Jodi Hammis, Kristen Kubiak, Denita Hall, and Becky Reinig in Myrtle Beach.

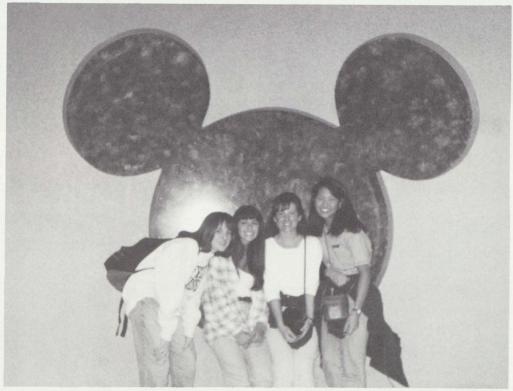

Huh?! Bryan Sallmen and Ryan Kelly tired from the long treak to Florida.

Surf, sand, and fun! Heidi Kern, Brittany Schultz, and Kristyna Rabassa hanging out on the beach in Gulf Shores, AL.

Hoochie mama! Senior Stephanie Brown strutting stuff.

Penny Week

Let me! Junior Jenny Fry seems to say, "Give me that money!" But who could blame her. Penny Week was once again a success, and very much a spirit raiser. Penny Week's purpose is to raise school spirit, and raise money for leadership. Four jugs are placed on a table in the student commons, and pennies are placed in your jug to add points, and silver coins are added to opposing classes jugs to take points away.

imes were though.

by Lauren Lambertson

When everyting could go wrong, it did. Times kept getting worse all over America, and Saginaw wasn't any different. There were times when a gallon of gas was $1.15, for regular unleaded. Then finally the government agreed to give this economic struggle a name, The Recession.

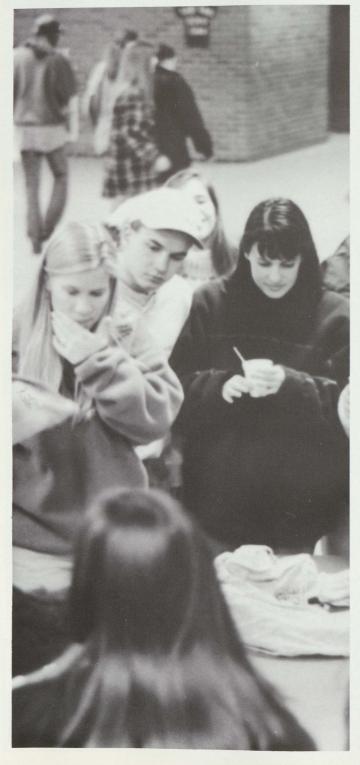

Prices went up on many different products, and plants such as GM were shutting down, and taking their bussiness elsewhere. Then NAFTA (North American Free Trade Agreement) came into the picture. Its purpose was to drop tariffs with Canada and Mexico, and allow free trade.

At first it was a very controversial subject, and then it became a heated debate. Vice-President Gore and Ross Perot were seen on Larry King duking it out with words, and many blue collar people began to fear the policy being passed. It was.

Hurrah! Seniors gather round during lunchtime and cheer on fellow class mates donating money to their class jug.

All Heritage students pulled together this year for a good cause, to help the Saginaw County Rescue Mission. For a lunch at the Olive Garden 2nd hours collected cans of food, and non-parishable goods to help the needy. Competition was strong, and some felt that it stood in the way of the real purpose, to help others. But whether or not, it still was a successful food drive.

Relax. "Who ever said working a food drive wasn't hard work?" questions this group of seniors. Above: Ginny Mahar lost in space.

exams. Whether they have perfect attendance or not they will have to take all of their exams.

The decision to take away the examincentive came from constant bickering of teachers, that the students would not learn how to prepare for exams in college, and to the fact that many teachers are unhappy with kids that will come to school half dead just to get the option of waving their exams. Many sophomores are unhappy with this decision, and the seniors and juniors are sitting back and laughing.

Drivers training is a big part of everyone's life. If you were smart enough to keep your grades up to a 2.0, and you are going to be 16 by a certain date, then you get to take it over the summer. The lovely experience of driving with Mr. Noble, Mr. Swartzendruber, or Mr.

ive me the Keys!

Winicki is all yours.

You show up on the first day and discover who your teacher is. Then there in front of everyone else, they tell you if your gradepoint is high enough to take it. Then you have to pick a driving partner. You get to drive with Mr. Winicki, ("Crash" as he is more commonly known), and what an experience, or what about Mr. Swartz? Drivers training can be difficult, and stressful, but man, what an experience. May the Swartz always be with vou.

Your sophomore year can be the most confusing of all four years in high school. You walk around dazed, because you'r no longer a freshman, but yet you'r not a upper classman. What do you do?

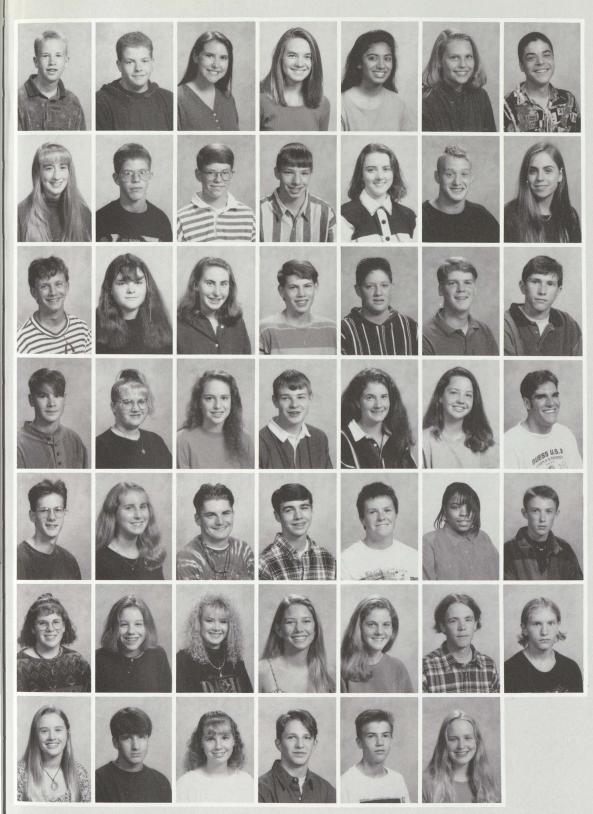

Most people polled in high schools respond that their sophomore year was their worst. It seems everyone encounters problems that year, with feeling unsure of themselves. But the year goes by fast, and soon you're not a sophomore any longer, you're a junior.

Varsity Cheerleaders Win Recognition

Stevens and Hermann lead squad to varsity status

by Lorllyn Faerber

arsity Cheerleaders are not a bunch of blonde babes jumping around in too-short skirts. It is a group of enthusiastic teenagers who have spirit and drive for their school. They work hard, but always with a smile, to cheer on athletes.

The 1993-1994 Varsity cheerleading squad consisted of eleven members: Captain Rachel Stevens, Co-captain Shannon Hermann, Colleen Nichols, Dana VanBenschoten, Schuyler Denton, Becky Hernden, Kim Simonetti, Allison Campbell, Becky Hoppe, Katle Deland and Michelle Hagerty. All were seniors except Hoppe (11), Deland (10) and Hagerty (10). During the past year cheerleading was recognized as a sport, and the squad received permission to mount at games as well as competition. In order to gain approval they had to videotape mounts and present their arguments to the athletic directors. Their request was granted.

Under the direction of cheerleading coach and social studies teacher Shirley Goehman, the squad placed seventh in competition at St. Johns.

after some hard work at the University of Michigan's cheerleading camp. While at the camp, the United Cheerleaders Association picked seniors Dana VanBenschoten and Rachel Stevens to be in All-Stars in England, where they participated in a parade.

Pom Pons Add Panache Squad Continues to Dazzle Hawks

Varsity Pom Pons continued to steal the show at pep assemblies and athletic events this year. Despite their long hours of grueling practices before and after schools, squad members always had plenty of energy and dazzling smiles when the clock rolled around to "show time". Despite some all-new routines and innovative choreography, the kick line proved to be the crowd favorite and promises to be a squad staple for years to come.

he Heritage girls' golf team posted its best season record in Heritage history with the close of their 1994 season. The team posted a 9-3 record to finish off dual match play. The girls also finished the highest they've ever placed at the Class A regional held in Byron, Michigan. Coach Jim Benjamin said, "We were a young team with just one senior and we'll expect to have another good team next year." The team carried three freshmen (Katle Denton, Lindsay Franson, Kara Schulwitz) one sophomore (Sarah Sarosi), six juniors (Maya Prasad, Paula Tarachas, Melissa Kellogg, Erin Rohlfs, Shannon Gowan, Kara Hopper and senior Ann Provenzano.

The team broke some school records with their winning season. The foursome of Denton, Schulwitz, Franson and Provenzano established the low nine match record at 195 and the low nine tournament record at 212. Freshman Lindsay Franson broke former Heritage golfer Melinda Spadt's low nine match individual record with a score of 46. She now holds the low nine individual tournament score and low average. Senior Ann Provenzano capped off her high school golfing career by setting the low eighteen individual tournament total with a 110. Reflecting on the season she mused, "I knew when we won that first match against Clio that we were off on the right foot..." The girls on the team this year showed tremendous dedication and enthusiasm.

Coach Benjamin summed up the season, saying, "The three freshmen have helped the team out quite a bit, but it was the combined team effort that gave us the kind of season we had."

Hawks Excell In Off-Campus Competition National Competition, Olympic Development Require Intense Commitment.

Junior Becky Hoppe (on side horse) and Sophomore Molly Decker (seated) are long-time members of Saginaw Gym jesters. Both have honed their skills over more than a decade of competition, and both have been to national competition three times. Gymnastics is a time-intensive sport that involves long evening practices and frequent weekend competitions.

Junior Jill Mikoleizik is a top player in the Olympic Development Program and plays for the Michigan Hawks. Michigan's ODP is centered in the suburban Detroit area, requiring Jill to spend many hours travellling to and from practices. Because of her intense schedule, Jill chose not to play varsity soccer during the 94 season.

Track Season Showcases Hawk Talent Both Boys and Girls Teams Excell in 94

Hawks Win Conference in First Year of Competition.

Heritage Kickers Win District Championship, Advance to Regional Finals

conference championship, a district title and a trip to the regional finals capped Heritage's most successful

Hawks were 16-3-2 overall, and 6-0-1 in Valley play. HHS tied Dow in conference play and shared the title with them, but defeated the Chargers in the district final. Grand Blanc fell to the Hawks in the regional semifinal, but Rochester High ended Saginaw's season in the finals.

Right: Forwards Sarah Blanchet and Julie Smith watch a high cross. Hawks forwards excelled heading goals from corner kicks and crossing passes.

Midfielder Stephanie Craig was voted the most valuable player, midfield. Stephanie played four years of varsity ball. Stephanie's aggressive play and superboonditioning made her a threat both on offense and defense.

Co-Captain Jill Braun

Center Midfielder Jill Braun was voted the Hawks Most Valuable Player. Jill was a fouryear varsity player. Her strong shot, accurate passing and physical style dominated the midfield and set the pace for every game.

Top Scorer Julie Smith

Junior Julie Smith led the Hawks in goals and assists. Her powerful shot, accurate cross and blistering speed made her a threat at either wing or at center. Julie's ability to find the open net and exloit the goalie's weakness allowed her to score in the closest of games.

Tt's All Over, Folks

by Erin Freier

After twelve years of waiting for the end to come, graduation day still sneaks up and surprises us. There are so many little things to take care of, so much to remember, and so many friends to wish farewell. The cap has to stay on the head, the gown has to be ironed, pictures have to be taken. And remember, this is all for the parents so it has to be done right. Then all of a sudden we're lining up to descend the bleachers, and just an hour and a half later the deed is done: we're graduates. Alumni. Free at last. Now what do we do?!

Graduation is a very happy, very sad, very busy, very full time of our lives. It marks the end of our school days, it's the final chapter in the book that began when we were five years old. Once the ceremony is over and the diploma is in our hands, there is nothing more to worry about. It feels so incredibly unreal, and yet it's all to real, and the next thing we know we are part of the "real world."

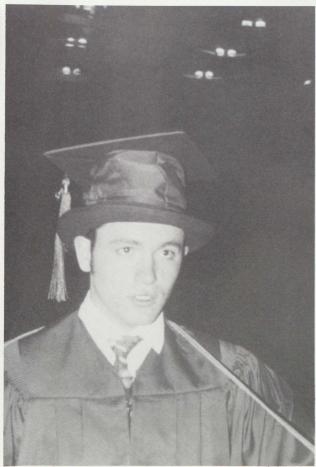

I want to wish all of the graduates of 1994 good lives, fortune, and above all, happiness. It's been one beck of a ride!

with the class of 1994 graduating, seniors were invited to bring in pictures of when they were younger.

Digging up the pictures must have brought back plenty of memories! Angela Lopez remembers the bike she was riding in the picture. "It was my favorite one(bike)."

Rachel Abesamis recognizes the sullen faces and what was going on when her picture was taken. "My sister and I were upset with my mom because she kept taking pictures of us at the mall. We were really upset with her."

"It was my sister's birthday party," recalls Allison Campbell of her picture.

Amy Carpenter's picture of her dance costume brings back memories. She took gymnastics and ballet from Carolanne Killmer and Karolyn Bohaty. "You should've seen me dance! Now, let me tell you, my dancing isn't the same!"

Colleen Nichols said she was usually fond of taking baths in the kitchen sink.

These pictures bring back so many memories. It is fun to look at them and try to guess who's who! To make it more complicated, the names are placed upside down. These four pages are one of the great ways to show how far the seniors have come to graduate.

...at Gregg's are treated to the highest quality portraits available. Year after year Gregg creates the finest senior portraits around. He has won the High School Photographer of the Year award from the Professional Photographers of MI. But, more importantly, he has pleased his clients by giving them creative contemporary and traditional portraits. Beautiful portraits without a lot of excess studio props. Through the use of window light, natural settings and the proper posing, Gregg's senior portraits all have a quality that says, "Gregg took my portrait."
